

Flint Public Library Fundraising Policy

The Trustees of the Flint Public Library appreciate any efforts by the Friends of the Flint or other individuals to raise funds to benefit the library.

The Trustees have instituted the following rules in order to minimize any imposition on patrons of the library:

- All library fundraisers must be held at the Director's discretion, based on availability of resources and with a view to appropriateness to the mission of the Library.
- Raffle or sale items may be displayed and sold at the Library, but patrons cannot be solicited by the staff or any other individual during hours of operation.
- The Library will not be responsible for any merchandise, materials, or funds collected.
- Nonprofit groups, in close collaboration with the library, may be considered for a fundraising activity at the Flint Public Library with the approval of both the director and the Library Board of Trustees.
